

Week Beginning: 20th January 2014

Literacy

In Literacy this week, we have been working on our writing targets. We have learnt how to write compound and complex sentences using a range of conjunctions. We have also started our new Literacy module on information texts. We have read and discussed a variety of information texts and have begun to identify the key features of this genre.

Maths

In Maths this week, we have been working on our maths targets. Some of us have been working on improving the efficiency of our mental maths, while others have been working on solving word problems. We have been working through different investigations. We have used a numberline to show division by 2.

Science

We have started our science topic on magnets for this half term. We have investigated a range of different magnets and discussed our findings. We wrote key points about each one.

Art

In Art this week, we finished our William Morris tile. Mrs Munce put the tiles in the oven in order to set the paint so it that it shouldn't wash or chip off.

History

We have been out on the school playground playing Victorian games. We have written instructions on our favourite one.

WOW task! (Year 2): This week, the village of Hambleton has flooded. Write a short recount of your journey into school. Did you have to take a detour?

Homework task! (Year 3): Write a news report on the Hambleton flood. Can you speak to any eyewitnesses about what happened?

Just to remind parents that homework is sent out on a Thursday or Friday and needs to be returned by the following Wednesday. The homework should take approximately 45 minutes. If possible, we would like parents to please initial the work once your child has finished. Mrs Munce will test Group 1 children on their spellings every Tuesday, while Group 2 will be tested every Thursday. New spellings will also be given on these days. Many thanks.
